Synopsis:

Patients that are very young and very old, who are confused, or bear mental health complications can put themselves and others in dangerous and life-threatening situations. The FREEDOM RESTRAINT significantly inhibits the patient from pulling-out life saving devices; promoting patient safety, while providing therapeutic comfort. It is remarkably effective compared to other existing restraints.

References

